How To Secure The First Big Excursion For Town of Coleman

Believed That This Much-to-be-desired Event Can Be Successfully Negotiated If Undertaken in Right Way
---Question Should Be Vigorously Taken Up At the Earliest Possible Date By Citizens.

The majority of people in Coleman are now willing to admit that there is no reason why this place should not be made "The Picnic Town of The Pass." How to bring it about is now the question that is being considered. Last week we intimated that The Bulletin had a plan which it was believed would bring about the desired results.

It is generally admitted that the greatest difficulty will be experienced in attracting the first excursion to the town—getting some organization to break the ice as it were. Coleman has all the necessary facilities for handling this sort of business, but outsiders do not know about our resources in that respect. There can be no doubt, however, but that when once an excursion is brought into this town that others will soon follow.

It therefore behooves the business men and citizens of the town to bend their energies toward getting in the first excursion. The suggestion has been made that an illustrated booklet, or circular letters might be printed and be circulated throughout the country in large quantities, setting forth the advantages we have to offer tourists and excursionists. But The Bulletin does not believe that money spent in this way ever did any town any good, or would do Coleman any good at the present time. It would cost a lot of money to send out literature of this sort, and it is extremely doubtful if the results would warrant the expenditure.

We therefore suggest that the citizens themselves undertake the first excursion into Coleman in the early spring. A special train could be arranged for and run from Lethbridge to Coleman, taking in all the intervening towns. The town would have to guarantee a certain sum (probably about three hundred dollars) to the railway company for this train, but we would get all the revenue derived from the sale of tickets, and the probabilities are would make a handsome profit out of the venture.

But in order to ensure the success of such an excursion there must be a lot of work done by some organizations all along the route of the proposed excursion.

This can be easily accomplished. In Lethbridge they have a board of trade that is in the habit of running "Get Acquainted" excursions to various parts of Southern Alberta. Why not co-operate? From no part of the country do the Lethbridge wholesalers and jobbers get more business than they do from The Pass. It would therefore be a very reasonable request on our part should we ask them to co-operate on this occasion and not only boost our excursion, but also to accompany it to Coleman and spend the day here.

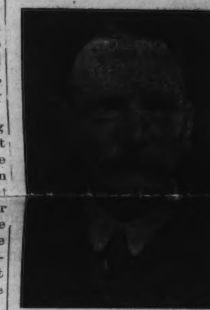

As far as the intervening towns are concerned, it might be a good idea, and a profitable one, to offer a commission on all tickets sold in the different towns to any organization or society that would take the excursion up and boost it. We know this can be done in Picher Creek and have no doubt it could also be done in the other towns as well.

It may be argued that there is after all a danger that the venture might not prove a success financially. What of it? Even if there should be a deficit it would be money well invested for every person who comes to Coleman and sees what a splendid park we have and partakes of our hospitality for a day will thereafter be a Coleman booster of the very best kind.

The Bulletin would suggest a public meeting of the citizens to talk this matter over. Better think about it soon at that.

May Leave Town

MR. E. DISNEY

Bulletin readers throughout The Pass will learn with surprise and genuine regret that there is a strong probability of Mr. E. Disney and family moving to the coast in the very near future. Mr. Disney has received a tempting proposition from there and is now considering the matter. To a Bulletin reporter he stated that he had not yet made up his mind as to whether he would accept or not but there was a possibility that he would do so.

It was away back in 1903 that Mr. Disney, at that time a resident of Grand Forks, B.C., made a business trip to Spokane and while there made the acquaintance of Messrs. Hill, Driscoll, Flummerfelt, Galer and others, who were at the moment organizing a party to come to Coleman and spy out the land, as it were. They induced Mr. Disney to accompany them.

There was not the first sign of development at Coleman then but shortly thereafter the International Coal and Coke Co. commenced the erection of their plant and buildings, in which work Mr. Disney took a goodly part.

He has been a resident of Coleman ever since, is at present a coroner and a justice of the peace. During their residence in The Pass Mr. Disney and his estimable family have made for themselves a host of friends, all of whom will regret to hear that there is a possibility of their departure.

Thomas Flynn has bought the cottage of Robert Parker on Sixth street and will move in shortly.

The Place Where All The Good Printing Comes From

STEAK FROM BEANS.

The Succulent Tenderloin May Be Imitated in Cheaper Material.
What's there to worry over?
Lump and cook beans!
When breakfast prices soar
Boycott the butcher store.
Stewy cook beans, and more,
More and more beans!

That suggestion has an expert opinion back of it, for very recently R. H. Doolittle, M. D., Dr. Wiley's successor as the "pure food" head of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, sent forth the slogan, "Beans as a substitute for beef." They are, he says, the very best substitute for that expensive luxury.

It cannot be denied that there is a sort of prejudice in the popular mind against beans. They are accepted when they keep their place as a humble poor relation on the menu. But fancy the emotions of an epicure if beans were placed before him as the piece de resistance! And yet why shouldn't they be? What is the reason of the slurs we hear on beans, such as calling cheap restaurants "beaneries," and jokes like that? It must be just because they don't cost much. Let some wily trust magnate create a corner in beans and send the quotations on them upward a few dozen points and women would probably be doing without hats to buy beans for their husbands' dinners. And then the country would be saying, "How is the poor man to live with beans at the price they are?"

There are many varieties of beans. All are nourishing. All legumes, even in an immature state, as green beans and peas, have more nutritive value than other vegetables, and in the dried forms they approach beef. According to a bulletin issued by the United States department of agriculture in 1911, the comparative percentage of protein in lean beef, navy beans and lentils is, respectively, 21.3, 22.5 and 25.7.

A bean roast might be served as a change from bean steak. It could be made the same way as the steak, shaped like a roast and cooked in the oven. Roast chicken made of beans is effective, but the shaping in the form of a chicken is a bit difficult. This can be made with seasoned stuffing, either rolled inside the "chicken" or baked in the pan with it. Croquettes made of beans are very nice. And consider the comparative cost! Why, a porterhouse steak nowadays for a small family costs over a dollar. Half a quart of red kidney beans would make a steak large enough for a big family.

Some Things Worth Knowing.

Vacuum Cleaner.—There are modern-size priced vacuum cleaners which can be obtained. Once a housewife begins to use this wonderful invention she will wonder how she ever got along so many years without one. They are the most sanitary thing on the market for sweeping, cleaning walls, bedding, furniture and draperies.

Beaded Vases.—If the beads have come off from a vase one can easily sew them on again. Beads come in every imaginable color, so there will be no trouble in matching yours.

Gathering a Rolled Hem.—When gathering a rolled hem hold the material between the thumb and first finger of the left hand and do the rolling with the thumb and first finger of the right hand. Keep the left hand about an inch behind the right and near the hem, so that when the material is rolled one can keep it flat. After a thin, even roll is made over the desired length do the gathering. Gather as you work—that is, after about twelve stitches have been taken gather by pulling the thread.

If care is to be sewed on a rolled edge hold the material with the right side toward you. Place the lace on this side and over and it on, making each stitch under the roll and at the extreme edge of the lace.

Covered Boxes. The fad is on for covering boxes with cretonne. They make dainty and beautiful presents, but the work must be done extremely neat to be successful. It may mean covering one or two boxes before one really catches on to arranging the corners and using the paste dextrously.

Fried Shrimps.

Drain one pint of cold boiled or canned shrimps, dip each one first in well beaten egg, then in sifted breadcrumbs, and fry in smoking hot fat until delicate browned, says Table Talk.

READY FOR SERVING.

Drain on white paper, garnish with slices of radish and serve very hot with tartare sauce which has been colored pink with a little powdered lobster coral.

Needlework Notes.

Girls with an appreciation for the artist are outlining the designs at the ends of pretty children's scarves with needle and thread. These are then secured by remarkably fine effects.

Linenen cloths or between most cloths of color are gaining in favor, and no material is more popular for novel uses at present than dyed tissues. These are often embroidered in simple designs.

There is a little pin cushion just out that is made with a wrist strap to fasten snugly on the left arm while one is doing dressmaking. Its usefulness is evident, and it can easily be made at home by a handy woman.

Esau White has certainly had a full share of hard luck lately. His house was burned down a few months ago, later his father and his child died. Last Sunday the squirrels were chattering and the robins and blue jays were singing merrily in the park. The crocuses were bursting out of the ground in the most sunny and favored spots of the neighborhood. Presto! what a change! On Friday, just after dinner, as Lank Bros' milk wagon was being driven down the hill past the school house, a small boy threw a snowball, striking one of the team, which, contrary to appearances, are a very nervous pair. The two men leaped from the wagon before the shock and escaped injury. When the team was straightened out it was found that one horse had cut his knee and received other bruises. This should be a lesson to all boys to beware how they throw snowballs.

The sale of work in connection with the Institutional church on Wednesday last was the most successful in every way held by this church. The club room was elaborately decorated with flags of the two great nations, kindly loaned for the occasion by the Oddfellows, while the numerous tables were literally smothered with beautiful fancy and useful articles of many kinds. A light tea was also served for the small sum of fifteen cents, while tempting articles of food from candy to cake, not excepting plain brown bread, were also sold. There was little of anything that failed to tempt a cheerful buyer, and everybody was smiling when the fair teller announced the total receipts as $146.20. The ladies of the society are not publishing what they intend to do with this handsome sum, but it is not anticipated it will long remain in idleness.
